

ABOUT HUSK

All Husk's products are made from rice husks, an eco friendly, biodegradable and green material that is safe and does not contain any harmful substances.

REVIVES waste

Instead of disposing rice husks as agricultural waste, the husks are revived into an entirely new product; thus giving it a new lease of life as natural material dinnerware.

REDUCES pollution

Burning of agricultural waste releases harmful substances and inhalable particles into the air we breathe and contributes to the global warming effect. Reviving husks into new products reduces this burden imposed onto the planet.

REUSABLE

Once used, take away plastic food container or boxes are often thrown away and end up in landfills. These materials take thousands of years to biodegrade in the natural environment. Husk products are durable and can be used for years. It is then easily biodegraded when it ends up in landfills after completing its lifecycle.
